e.on Ruhrgas FIS World Cup Ski Jumping

Thomas Morgenstern from Austria won his second world cup Ski Jumping competition this winter in Trondheim (NOR). Morgenstern received 275.7 points for jumps to 133.0m and 131m. Morgenstern's team mate Gregor Schlierenzauer finished second (134.0m/129.5m; 269.8 points) ahead of Tom Hilde from Norway (131.0m/130.5m; 268.2 points).

Morgenstern now leads in the overall of the e.on Ruhrgas FIS World Cup Ski Jumping with the maximum 200 of 200 possible points after two competitions.

This is a very good start for me. I'm completely satisfied with this result on this hill as i have only jumped one competition on this hill before in my life and had no training here. We worked hard during the summer, this is now the result of the hard work. And i was lucky today as well.

Gregor Schlierenzauer

I'm very satisfied with the start of the season. Last season i started with 4th place in Kuusamo and won next competition, now i am pretty close to this results in the beginning. To me it's important that i have my mate Thomas Morgenstern in front of me, it's a perfect situation. Maybe it sounds strange but my jumps can still be improved a lot, there is still much more potential inside my jumps for the next competitions.

I'm in a really good shape. My goal is to give my best in every competition and be on the top in Panica. I had cramps as i did not drink enough today. It was not easy today and it had pains at the landing. But of course it was a perfect second competition for me. Now i'm looking forward to the competition tomorrow and the following competition in Villach. If i would win again tomorrow i would have 300 points in world cup overall when i start in Villach, that would be a dream to me. For me it's the best motivation that my mate Gregor is that strong and on second place today.

Man of the day Jane Ahonen (FIN).

Today i'm satisfied. Its not the first time i'm the man of the day, i was man of the day once before in summer already, i think it was last year. It feels good.

Today's competition was ok for me. The start in Kuusamo was not so good but i'm satisfied today. It's getting better and better.

Kind regards

Horst Nilgen
